BATTLE MOUNTAIN, A TOWN WITH A FUTURE

Its Possibilities of Progress.

The Center of a Rich Mining and Stock Region.

By C. D. Van Duzer.

Battle Mountain dates her history from about 1870, when the discovery of galena and copper mines caused most of the business interests of Argenia to move to Battle Mountain.

The town is most centrally located from a mining and commercial standpoint. It is the center of a very rich mining country—a country with a splendid mining past and a country with a great future.

Among the early pioneers who cast their fortunes in Battle Mountain was the late J. H. Blossom, whose business is now conducted by his son, Robert Blossom.

Among the pioneers of the '70's are J. N. McWilliams, engaged in merchandising; A. Robertson, agent or Wells Fargo; L. D. Huntsman, hotel keeper; A. Layton, freighter; Case & Bunnell, stage owners, and D. McPhy.

Many changes have taken place. The pioneers have most of them gone across the great divide.

Battle Mountain, passing through the many vicissitudes typical of western towns, stands today at the beginning of a new era with a future full of promise and full of possibilities.

In considering the Nevada of today we are not so much concerned with the history of the past, thrilling and at times pathetic, as we are of its real, live opportunities right at hand.

Battle Mountain is a bustling, busy, business town. The stock interests are large and substantial. Its agricultural possibilities infinite; and with the building of the Rock Creek reservoir, Battle Mountain would easily be a center for 15,000 people.

Battle Mountain itself comprises a wonderful mining district and it was here that John Kris in 1857 with a party of road builders had a fight with Indians and hence the name of Battle Mountain.

The great mining activity near Austin, reached by the Nevada Central railroad, whose terminus is at Battle Mountain, gives assurances that the railroad will in the near future be extended to Berlin and the other mining camps and the hope exists that Battle Mountain will be the junction of the Los Angeles connection of the Southern Pacific railroad.

This summer has seen a large number of residences erected and some very substantial business structures by Morton Horton, son of late State's Controller Horton, and by A. D. LeMaire. Mr. Solomon, whose business house is just being completed, will shortly open a large store. N. C. Hancock has made a number of up-to-date improvements to his hotel, which is now one of the leading hosteries along the S. P. line to Nevada.

From a business standpoint the outlook for Battle Mountain was never better. The large stock interests of George Russell have headquarters here and Bob Blossom has also large landed and stock interests here.

The Central Nevadan, which has lately changed hands and is in the control of Louis LeMaire, has adopted a policy which can well be emulated by the Nevada press. Since his assumed charge of the paper he has devoted much space to the writing up of the resources of Battle Mountain. Each issue has much valuable information. Such a paper is a material help to any community. It stimulates inquiry for mines, attracts attention of the home seeker and directs the attention of the outside world to Nevada.

Mr. LeMaire is not afraid of space or of printer's ink and is today running one of the model up-to-date papers of Nevada.

T. E. Eagar is one of the old pioneers, whose history is a part of Nevada's history. He has had his place of business at Battle Mountain for a number of years. He is one of the old guard practically. He has served with credit his county in the legislature and is today prominently mentioned as the next state Senator from Lander.

Battle Mountain is an example of the New Nevada. English and Scottish capital are investing in the mines while rich New Yorkers are spending large amounts of money in the South end of the county.

It is safe to say that Battle Mountain will double her population in a few years. She is the center of a rich stock country; the center of a rich mineral zone, and a storage reservoir would turn the magnificent stretch of arid land a country into fields of grain and alfalfa.

The Taps Have Been Sounded.

The funeral of the late Thomas Bell took place yesterday afternoon from the Methodist Church. Dr. Phelps officiated. The deceased was a member of the Nevada Battalion. He was buried under the charitable auspices of the Reno Red Cross Society, under direction of Captain Cox of the Nevada Ranch Riders.

The pallbearers were Quartermaster Jones, Sergeant Groton, Corporal Robson and M. Cohn. At the church at the grave music was furnished by a quartett consisting of Mrs. Blair, Malotte, Lunsford and Merrill.

THE GREATEST OF THESE IS CHARITY

An item appeared in yesterday's Journal referring to the illness and poverty of a widow woman in this city. Before the item appeared the attention of Commissioner Hynes was called to the case. Through his intervention she is now supplied with medical attendance, food and nursing at the expense of the county. This is no longer a case requiring private charity.

Apropos of this case it may be remarked that suffering for necessities of life so rarely occurs in Reno than an individual case quickly attracts the attention of the charitably inclined. There are few towns the size of Reno which contain as little poverty.

We desire to thank the members of Rebekah Lodge, the Ladies of the Relief Corp., and all friends who assisted us during our late bereavement. The many little acts of kindness performed will linger long in our hearts.

PROSPEROUS TONOPAH

Items of News About the Newly Discovered Mines.

Shipping ore is accumulating on the teams now on the road between here and Sodaville can haul it away. At the present time by actual count 527 sacks of ore are awaiting shipment. It is more than the present force of teamsters can move in the next six weeks, even if not another ton should be mined.

Mason Valley copper mines find their living supplies in that valley. The other prospective camps, Siegelton and Tonopah, with Sodaville as a central point, promise a market for much Owens Valley produce.

The Tonopah Miners' Union now has 200 members with numerous applications yet to be acted upon. The Union has joined the Western Federation.

At least five or six editors in this State are unable to spell Tonopah correctly.

Three whims have been received during the past week, and are being erected for operation as rapidly as possible. One was delivered to Cutting & Gowan, one to Sullivan, Lynch & O'Meara and one to Oddle, Phelps & Peters. There are three more whims en route from Sodaville.

Tonopah is becoming metropolitan and its commercial interests have increased so rapidly that a local bank became a necessity. The firm of Turner, Edwards & Cutting have instituted a bank here and will transact a general banking business. H. C. Cutting is cashier, O. A. Turner president and B. F. Edwards, vice-president.

TERSE AND TO THE POINT

Little Bits of Items, but Still Worthy of Mention.

The Reno police officers made 120 arrests last month.

There will be an excursion to Loughlin's spring Sunday.

Henry Eller has installed an electric fan in the Elite.

A carload of government horses came in from Amedee yesterday.

A hay stack on the Roberson ranch was burned Thursday night.

Every south train has three or four carloads of lumber for Tonopah.

If "B" will call at this office he will hear of something to his advantage.

The body of the late Mrs. Howk will be taken to Loyalkon tomorrow for interment.

A. C. Marmerin yesterday disposed of his entire first crop of hay for $10 a ton loaded on the cars.

The U. S. Jurors will probably be held in Carson until next week as a number of new cases of selling liquor to Indians have come up.

The N. C. O. Company is preparing to put several more sidetracks in its local yards to accommodate its constantly increasing traffic.

J. C. Hammon, Guy Mauvais, Jas. C. Tyson and families of San Francisco came down from the Comstock yesterday in their tally-ho, drawn by four black horses.

The Monarch saloon carries the only eastern beer sold in Reno. Bryson & Cohn are sole agents for the famous Anheuser-Busch beer, the best and purest that can be obtained.

A BIG WOOD CAMP.
The Vogliotti wood camp at Purdy station is a scene of activity. Felix Vogliotti of this city has twenty men at work there and is delivering large quantities of pine wood at Purdy station. He has just completed a contract of several hundred cords for the N. C. O. Company and is making shipments to Reno for family use.

SOME NEW PATRONS

Recent Accessions to the Journal's Advertisers.

Business men are tumbling over themselves to get their ads in the Journal. There must be some reason for this. It is partly because the town is progressive and full of life and business.

But there is another and more pronounced reason for their rapidly increasing patronage of the Journal. Under its new management it has entered upon a policy of boosting home industry, presenting the claims of Reno to citizenship and telling the world about our undeveloped resources and local business opportunities for investors from the outside world.

There is still another reason. Messrs. White & Case, the "Quick Printers," have recently been an acquisition to this office. They have just completed a contract of several hundred cords for the N. C. O. Company and are making shipments to Reno for family use.

Among the new advertisers received yesterday is the Nevada Hardware and Supply Company. This is an old and well-known concern. It carries an immense stock. You can buy anything there from a needle to a blacksmith's outfit. The N. H. & S. Co.'s ad will be changed frequently. It will pay you to watch it.

Gensy, the hardware man, makes an announcement this morning. He is an up-to-date hardware dealer and plumber. His stock of stoves is large and complete. It is about the time when householders begin to figure on stoves. Gensy is now offering great bargains.

EXTRAVAGANT PENSION DEMANDS.

THE last report of the Pension Department gives the number of pension applications already filed on account of the Spanish-American war as 45,716. This is an astonishing total when the facts of the war are considered, and will illustrate what sort of education has been imparted by the persistent liberal pension policy that the government has pursued relative to the veterans of the Civil war.

It was but a few years ago that Russia adopted the gold standard, an act which caused much exultation among the gold bugs of this and other countries. However, she still uses silver as a subsidiary, convertible on demand into gold coin. This was done with extreme reluctance and not as a wholesome financial change, but for the same reason that she will change her time reckoning—to uniform and harmonize it with the other nations and to assist in removing the barriers of national lines.

THE Democratic party will go far towards the accomplishment of fusion, but there are several so-called "Silver party men" in this State who will have to give good proof that they do not intend to use the fusion conventions as a nest in which to deposit cuckoo's eggs, before they will receive Democratic consent to their nomination.—Virginia Report.

There were engaged for service in the war with Spain a total of 274,000, in round numbers. Of these the greater number never got a glance of a Spanish uniform, never left the country, nor were absent from home but a few weeks or months. And yet a sixth of the total number have already appealed for permanent government aid because of that service. The army sent to Cuba, and which was prepared to participate in the Santiago campaign, comprised but about 15,000 officers and men. Of these, according to the statistics, 200 met their death and 1,421 were wounded. The force that General Miles took into Porto Rico was less than 2,500, and of these but three were killed and sixty wounded. There was much sickness in the mobilization camps, and as the men had just been examined for physical disability it is but fair to assume that most of the deaths were incident to entering the military service. The total of these was about 2,500. The deaths and wounded in the military service outside the Philippines figures up a little over 4,000 men.

The number of soldiers in service at the Philippines has been about 70,000, of whom about one half were volunteers and have been mustered out. The number of fatalities there has been about 3,000, and the number of wounded some more. The campaigning there has not been as severe as warfare is generally carried on, or hardly to be compared with the contemporary war in South Africa. Taking all of the volunteers in that war and adding the number of wounded and the deaths from all other causes elsewhere, and we have a total several thousands less than the number of pension applications already on file. This is an astounding situation and naturally leads to the wonder of what the outcome may be when the thousands recently mustered out from the Philippine service have time to file their applications. The pension system is all right when properly conducted. The government owes to disabled soldiers remuneration for their services and for disability incurred in such service. But the abuses are out of all reason, and a check should be placed upon them, and that, too, without delay. Commissioner Evans is evidently doing his duty, and it is the duty of the administration to retain him in his present position.

ROBERT HENRY NEVILLE lately died in Brooklyn. He was better known as "Orpheus C. Kerr," and for a number of years he wrote satirical yarns for the literary papers. That was nearly a generation ago. For a few years before and during the Civil war he was regarded as the leading American humorist of the times, and many of our older readers will doubtless remember his "Mackerel Brigade" narratives and the imitable manner in which they were related. It was a special vein of humor which he discovered and worked, but it became exhausted with the close of the war, and he never found another that he could successfully mine. He drooped out of sight and the news of his death will only awaken reminiscences in the memories of those who read and enjoyed his humorous productions of forty years ago.

LAFAYETTE county, Missouri, offers to produce a brood of chickens hatched in a refrigerator. That's nothing. In Reno hens have to be fed on cracked ice to prevent them from laying boiled eggs. If that won't do, here's another: A chunk of ice which had remained in the sun for five minutes burned our devil's fingers to a blister while toting it from the porch to the water bucket in the press room.

THE News says there is a mine of molybdenum near Carson which is so rich that it won't pay to work. From the attempted explanation of this startling assertion, we infer that the editor is in training for an elaborate article on the new theory that strikes off evidences of prosperity.

UNIFORM TIME RECKONING.

ANOTHER indication that the nations of the world are getting nearer together in business methods and all that contribute thereto, is given in the announcement that Russia has practically decided to adopt the Gregorian calendar. She has been the only important nation, and with what are known as the Greek states, the only civilized nations to adhere to the old method of marking time, that was so faulty as to give rise to constant inconvenience. It was over 300 years ago, in 1582, that Pope Gregory ordained that such year should be 11 days less than had been or should be in any year thereafter and perfected the calendar system that has been in use since by other nations. Russia and the Greek states, however, have followed the old plan, thus making a calculation necessary whenever the time of an event was received from outside or was so sent. But with the wider establishment of rapid transportation, the introduction and extension of railways making internal connections, the advantage of a uniform system of true reckoning has become more impressive, and it is authoritatively stated the change will soon be proclaimed. It is also learned that the Greek states will soon follow such lead and make it unanimous.

It was but a few years ago that Russia adopted the gold standard, an act which caused much exultation among the gold bugs of this and other countries. However, she still uses silver as a subsidiary, convertible on demand into gold coin. This was done with extreme reluctance and not as a wholesome financial change, but for the same reason that she will change her time reckoning—to uniform and harmonize it with the other nations and to assist in removing the barriers of national lines.

It is to be hoped that the same feeling and sentiment predominates also in the Silver party, and so far as The Journal has noticed there is no indication that it does not.

WE are told that anti-imperialists should find consolation in the Supreme Court decision that the constitution does not follow the flag, for the reason that if it did it would be impossible to alienate any of the islands in the future. It is true that the constitution makes no provision for the surrender of any territory once pronounced American, nor does it, so far as we have been able to discover, provide for the government of subject peoples.

PRESS COMMENT.

McKinley's land lottery is in full blast in Oklahoma. It is being conducted in the same manner as the old Louisiana lottery drawings. It is a crime to conduct a lottery in the United States, but the McKinley administration is above the reach of the law.—Silver State.

Carrie Nation has been permitted to pay her fine on the installment plan. This concession was probably made in view of the fact that the saloon-keepers can buy new fixtures on the same easy terms.—Sal Lake Herald.

Laundry employees could make themselves popular now by going on strike and giving people an excuse for not wearing collars.

Even the mosquitoes seem to be affected by the heat. They don't seem to be able to go to sleep these warm nights.

It may be some consolation to know that the sun is still 93,000,000 miles away from the earth.

The Silver State pertinently remarks that a court of inquiry into the conduct of Admiral Sampson would suit the people better than the investigation in the case of Schley.

San Francisco found great difficulty in raising $25,000 to induce 30,000 Empwirth Leaguers to visit that city. It finds no obstacles in the way, however, to offer $30,000 for a visit from two distinguished individuals—Messrs. Sharkey and Jeffries. In accordance with their apparent sense of appreciation, one "ring" man is equal to about 15,000 church people.—Sacramento Bee.
